Banking Department

BANK REPORT.

The period covered by the following report on the condition of the State and Savings banks and Trust companies, of Iowa, is the biennial period ending June 30, 1916. The report contains statements from 331 state banks, 865 savings banks and 21 trust companies, a total of 1217. One bank was not called upon to report, on account of having been recently organized. This report is entirely different from the report as it has been formerly compiled, the endeavor having been to make it a more comprehensive one and it is hoped that these efforts will be appreciated.

During this biennial period, one state bank and ten savings banks have ceased to transact business as state institutions.

During the same period, charters were issued to thirty state banks, eighty-three savings banks and three trust companies, making a total of one hundred sixteen, a net gain of one hundred five.

During the same period, sixteen state banks and three savings banks have renewed their charters, one state bank and two savings banks having reorganized.

The department is pleased to report that there have been no failures of banks under state supervision during this biennial period; in fact, there has been but one small failure of banks under state supervision since November, 1907. This is a most remarkable and gratifying showing.

It will be noted that out of one hundred sixteen charters issued by the Banking Department during the biennial period, thirty-five were granted to banks succeeding private institutions.

During this biennial period the department collected fees from the banks amounting to $51,651.75, which amount was turned over to the Treasurer of State.

The following tables show the growth of Iowa banks during this biennial period. As shown by Table I, the total assets show a considerable growth over the same statement for the year previous. Bills receivable also show a steady growth. The reserve of banks has varied from time to time, at times approaching the minimum allowed by law, at others showing considerably more than this amount. The department is continually writing banks that show a low reserve and hopes to secure the hearty co-operation of all banks in maintaining at least the lawful reserve. A determined effort is being made to reduce overdrafts in the banks under state supervision, and there has been a material decrease in this item during the biennial period. This is right and proper, but there is still room for improvement along this line. Some of the banks carry entirely too much real and personal property, and this item should in some way be reduced by a number of our banks. The steady increase in the amount of capital stock invested in banking institutions is encouraging. Part of this is due, of course, to the new banks, but a number of the old banks have increased their capital stock. The deposits show a very steady growth during the biennial period. There has been a striking increase in the amount of surplus set aside by banks during the two years, and next to the increase in the amount of capital stock, this is the most pleasing feature of their condition.

It is desired also to call attention to the growth of banking institutions under state control as shown in Table No. 2. This table shows the steady increase in the number of banks, amount of deposits, capital stock and total liabilities for the past twenty-five years.

Table No. 3 is a list of all the banks under state supervision, showing the names of the president and cashier of each bank; also, the number of the bank, as used by the banking department.
